Y-Wives Enjoy Fashions For Feminine Skin Divers

Items of apparel the well-dressed woman skin diver wears, were of interest Tuesday, July 5 to members and visitors of the Y-Wives at the YWCA, 2320 West Carson, Torrance. Among the equipment including fins, mask, snorkel, aqualung, and speargun, brought by Dolores Fisher of Mel's Aqua Shop, Redondo Beach, was a bal-buoyant suit of foam neoprene trimmed in black lace. The women were fascinated with underwater movies in color and sound which have been taken by Mel Fisher showing Dolores diving for shells and catching fish. Also, Fisher could be seen being towed by a 400-lb. bass fish in another reel. Some of the movies were taken off the coast of Southern California, others off Florida and Mexico coasts. The skin diving demonstration followed the exercise class conducted by Miss Anne Douglas for Y-Wives. This exercise class and other Y-Wives activities beginning at 10 a.m. each Tuesday this summer, are open to women interested in becoming members of the YWCA. Child care is available at the Torrance Episcopal church for these sessions.

Johnson-Kelley Rites Solemnized

Rev. Father Anthony McGowan officiated at the wedding of the daughter of Mrs. Michael Joseph Kelley of 2019 W. 7th st., and the late Mr. Kelley, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. For the wedding summery white marguerite daisies combined with white gladioli and ribbons flanked the center aisle. The cheery daisies and gladioli in the altar decorations combined with white stock. Embroidered Organdie Exquisite embroidered organdie fashioned the lovely gown of the bride. From the fitted bodice with neckline billowed the four-tiered skirt made more bouffant with hoops and crinoline. The bride's illusion veil was caught by a headpiece made of matching organdie and her bouquet was composed of lilies of the valley and white orchids. She was given in marriage by Mr. Arthur Miller. Matron of honor was Mrs. Harvey L. Taylor, sister of the bride, who wore white embroidered organdie over pale yellow, the dress fashioned with fitted torso and full skirt. A white lace picture hat matched her white gloves, and her bouquet was of yellow marguerites with white streamers. Also attending the bride as maid of honor, was her other sister, Miss Marcie E. Kelley, and the groom's brother, James Johnson, was best man. Ushers were Don Bragg, Ron Bane, Dick Akerman, and Eddie White.
